GIST and KIST sign MoU to develop national science and technology and to enhance the research abilities of both institutions

- GIST (President Seung Hyeon Moon) and the Korean Institute of Science and Technology (KIST, President Byung Gwon Lee) signed a memorandum of understanding (MoU) on June 12, 2018, to develop national science and technology and to enhance the research abilities of both institutions through mutual cooperation.
- The main focus of the MoU are: △ development and implementation of joint research projects △ finding new areas of research for the future △ exchange research and educational materials and access to equipment and facilities △ exchange of personnel and technical information.
- President Seung Hyeon Moon said, “I hope that this agreement with KIST will serve as a leap forward for future science and technology leadership as well as convergence of talented people by integrating the core competencies of both institutions.”
